Local Townships to Lose Their Fees From Collection of Taxes

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

A provision of the Illinois Constitution that becomes effective Dec. 1 will result in a new tax collection system that will cost Quad-City area township units $235,000 in annual revenue, city and township finance officials predicted today.

The problem grows out of Section Nine of Article Seven of the new Illinois Constitution which eliminates use of fees for payment of salaries of governmental officers, or for operational purposes after the Dec. 1 effective date.

Under the new system, it will be necessary for all tax monies formerly designated as fees to go into the county general fund, according to Marshall Smith, assistant state's attorney who said that county finance officials now are trying to establish a procedural pattern under the constitutional provision.

Smith said elimination of fees for township tax collectors will mean the loss of fee income for the townships under the old system. Collection of taxes will be the full responsibility of the county treasurer, who may appoint deputy collectors or determine other methods of collection, possibly through the banks.

Received 2½ Fee

Under the existing system, township tax collectors conduct "local" collection periods each year receiving a 2½ fee on all collections. From this fee the collector pays his own salary and expenses of his office. The balance is turned over to the town fund of his respective township.

In Granite City, where the township and city boundaries are coextensive, the city treasurer also is the township collector. Under statutes governing such instances, the fees collected by the treasurer are turned over to the city rather than the township.

The new system therefore, will result in a loss of from $100,000 to $175,000 annually in Granite City, City Treasurer Paul Rutledge this year collected 89½ of a $6.6 tax extension from Granite City taxpayers, or $8.9 million.

The treasurer's fees for this collection amounted to $175,560, from which approximately $20,000 was applied to costs of the treasurer's office in conducting the local tax collection. The balance of approximately $155,000 will go to the city.

Other Township Losses

In Nameoki township, fee income on the annual tax collection amounts to about $17,000, which is turned over to the town fund.

In Venice township about $45,000 in fees is received by the town fund from collectors' fees and in Chouteau township the fee revenue has amounted to about $15,000 a year.

County Treasurer George Musso has sent letters to all town collectors asking estimates on the expenses of their offices in conducting the annual tax collection, suggesting that the collector "may" be appointed as a deputy collector with collection expenses paid directly out of the county's general fund.

Musso and Smith said the procedure for next year's tax collection system have not been worked out in detail because of the possibility of new legislation during the October session of the Illinois General Assembly.

Cost estimates of a collection system operated by the county are being obtained, however, so that the county board's finance committee can consider for the 1971-72 budget the potential cost of a new countywide collection program.

SU Trustees Change Resident Requirements

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees lengthened residency requirements requiring students to live in Illinois 12 months rather than three to qualify for in-state tuition fees at its meeting Friday at Springfield.

The board reclassified adults as students at least 21 or married to students who are 18 or older.

The board ruled that if a student has been living elsewhere, he qualifies as an in-state student if his parents or spouse are Illinois residents. Servicemen and their families stationed in Illinois will pay in-state fees. Tuition ranges up to $165.50 for Illinois residents and $446.50 for out-of-state students.

Open Burning Illegal Under New State Rules

Open burning of leaves and trash by residents of the Quad-City area is prohibited under new regulations adopted this month by the state Pollution Control Board.

The regulations apply to all residents in and within the boundaries of any municipality having a population of 1,000 or more, which includes Granite City, Madison, Venice and Ponton Beach.

David P. Currie, chairman of the board, explained, "Today's regulations make it clear that leaves and other landscape refuse may be burned only outside municipalities and a one to two mile buffer zone beyond towns of 1,000 or more people. In populated areas leaf burning is a nuisance."

He explained that people without access to refuse collection service are given a grace period to July 1972 before the new regulations take effect.

Some exceptions to the rule are the burning of fuels for legitimate campfire, recreation, domestic fireplace and cooking purposes; small open flames for heating tar, welding, acetylene torches and others; the setting of fires to combat existing fires and the burning of waste gases in conjunction with the use of anti-pollution equipment.

In the explanation of the new regulation, the board defended one of the exceptions. "Too many enjoyable things are already illegal, immoral or fattening, we will not deprive people of the joys of campfires and fireplaces until we are shown it is a nuisance."

Howlett Seen as Next Secretary of State

By KEN WATSON
Copy News Service

Springfield — Mike Howlett, Illinois secretary of state, may win the job of secretary of state.

That's the consensus beneath the all-important nod from John W. Lewis' racing stock controversy.

The political outlook for Lewis has done a complete reverse in the past few days.

Before Labor Day, the man Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie had picked to head the patronage-rich office after the Paul Powell affair had been considered as certain to run for a full term on his own and just about as certain to be elected.

Now the feeling is that Lewis is through as far as any future candidacy is concerned.

The political demise of Lewis has been accompanied by a sharp rise in opinion that State Auditor Michael J. Howlett will shed his previous reluctance and accede to Democratic urging that he accept the secretary of state instead of governor.

Howlett is not one of the gubernatorial picket line by any means, but he generally has been regarded as something of a long-shot as far as receiving the all-important nod from Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley is concerned.

At the Statehouse, it has been felt Howlett's best hope of winning the top spot is a persistent nomination to Lt. Gov. Paul Simon and shunt him off to the U. S. Senate race instead.

There is also the prevailing belief that Daley would prefer a Chicagoan for governor if he thought he could get away with it without antagonizing too many Downstate Democrats.

The Downstateers, while favoring the Simon-Daley ticket for governor, would be

Campus Budget Of $36 Million Is Recommended

A tentative operations budget request for $104,886,434 to finance Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and at Southwestern during the 1972-73 fiscal year was approved at Springfield Friday by the SIU board of trustees.

The board indicated that additional institutional and Board of Higher Education review of budget formulation guidelines is anticipated. This could result in changes in the SIU 1972-73 request.

The request presents needs for $55,159,823 from general revenue to augment an estimated $7,726,611 to be generated from university income, such as tuition and fees.

Incorporated in the total request is the $10,915,011 approved by the SIU board at its August meeting to meet a Sept. 1 deadline and which covered new, improved and expanded programs, physical plant operations and price increases.

The $104.8 million figure compares with $104.3 million requested a year ago to finance the current fiscal year.

Deductions made by the Board of Higher Education, the Illinois Legislature and Governor Richardson

Prentiss resulted in an appropriation of only $77,235,960 for the current year.

The 1972-73 request asks $68,250,229 for SIU at Carbondale and $36,636,205 for SIU at Southwestern.

ard Ogilvie resulted in an appropriation of only $77,235,960 for the current year.

The public is being urged to attend a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Granite City High School cafeteria building to hear Fred L. Wellman, executive secretary of the Illinois Junior College Board.

The topic will be whether this area should form a junior college and, if so, its boundaries. Legislation which is pending would require all areas of Illinois to be part of a junior college district.

A tool box containing an assortment of hand tools was stolen from the garage of William Morgan, 2251 Benton St., during the night, it was reported at 5:20 p.m. Sunday. The door was forced.

Tavern Is Looted Following Fire

Damage that may range as high as $10,000 was caused early yesterday morning at Tony & Joe's Tavern, Third Street and Madison Avenue, Madison, when two separate fires, one of which police believe was set by a burglar.

Madison firemen first were called at 3:30 a.m. by a cab driver who reported seeing smoke coming from the building.

When firemen arrived, the smoke was so thick that firemen, wearing gas masks, were unable to see far enough to locate the flames.

"We opened the doors and let air in, before we could enter," Elmer Smith, acting fire chief reported.

At 3:34 a.m., units from the Venice Fire Department were called to the scene on standby as fire in the stairway walls continued to burn and spout flames broke out in several places in the bar room and on the second floor.

Firemen were on the scene until 5:45 a.m. They were called back at 6 a.m. when officers in a patrol car saw flames in the building.

Door Found Open

When firemen and police arrived the second time they found a door on the west side of the building had been pried open and was being held open by a cinder block box.

Police and Anthony Anselmo, 1711 Elizabeth St., owner of the tavern, said they had locked the building following the first fire.

The second fire was extinguished at 6:50 a.m. Police investigated and found a large quantity of liquor had been taken from the bar and closet apparently between 3:45 and 6:00 a.m. Police theorized that a burglar broke into the building, stole the liquor and set the second fire.

Damage estimates from firemen ranged from $6,000 to over $10,000, mostly from smoke and water. The building will have to be completely rewired and wood paneling throughout the first floor will have to be replaced, Smith said. The tavern was remodeled two years ago.

During the fire, traffic on Madison Avenue and Third Street had to be rerouted.

Madison Fire Chief Eldon Rhodes, who was not in the city at the time of the blaze, was to examine the extent of damage.

Governor to Talk Here on Sept. 30

Illinois Governor Richard B. Ogilvie will address Madison County Republicans and citizens at a "GOP Fall Festival" dinner at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 30 at the Meridian Room of SIU-SW.

Clyde Belcher, county Republican chairman, is in charge. Tickets at $10 are available from James Louis of Granite City, ticket chairman, or any GOP precinct committee.

Nameoki Charity Days Festival This Weekend

"Charity Days" at the Nameoki Village Shopping Center will take place Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 23, 24 and 25. A total of 27 youth, health, civic and service groups will participate in the festival which is expected to be the largest since the idea was conceived seven years ago.

In observance of the community's 75th anniversary, the merchants at Nameoki Village have added a new inducement to the charitable groups who sponsor booths at the fest, James M. Henderson of Luaders Agency, the festival coordinator, reported today.

Henderson said those operating the booths have been invited to wear costumes contemporary to the Granite City's early history with prizes to be presented the top three. Prize money will be $25 for first place, $15, second and $10, third place.

"All they have to do to participate is wear a costume and make sure that we get a chance to judge their efforts," Henderson said. Several organizations stagger their volunteer workers' assignment hours, so it is doubly important that all those working in the booths get a chance to be seen and judged, he stressed.

Supports Charities

Proceeds from the three-day affair are retained by the individual organizations and used to support various charitable enterprises conducted by the groups throughout the community, Henderson explained.

The project originated seven summers ago under the auspices of business firms and merchants located at Nameoki Village Shopping Center. Each club occupies a booth, usually decorated by themselves, and offers a variety of items for sale to the public. The festival has proved very successful in previous years, the coordinator noted.

Participating groups include: American Legion Auxiliary Juniors, Venice-Madison Unit 307; DeMolay Mothers Club; Arlington Heights Women's Club; Alpha Xi Chapter; Church of Latter Day Saints; Easter Seal Society Auxiliary, Granite City Chapter; Briarcliff Pentecostal Church Ladies in Action.

Other Participants

Granite City Republican Women's Club; The Salvation Army; Quad-City Navy Mothers 800; Women of the Moose, Chapter 247; Eta Chapter, Phi Tau Omega Sorority; American Legion Auxiliary, Post 113; Senior Girl Scouts Troop 1177.

Gitchoff to Take Bench This Week

John Gitchoff, Granite City attorney, will resign this week as corporation counsel of the city of Madison and as chairman of the Madison County Building Commission to assume his duties as a Madison County Circuit Judge.

Gitchoff said that because of the crowded dockets in the circuit court he expects to take his oath of office and begin serving early this week.

His appointment as circuit judge to fill a vacancy created by the retirement of Circuit Judge L. E. Streeper III. Gitchoff was announced last week by the Illinois Supreme Court. Gitchoff received official notice of his appointment during the weekend.

Gitchoff, who lives at 1289 Klein St., Venice, has been corporation counsel of the city of Madison since 1962 and chairman of the Madison County Building Commission since 1964. He is the senior partner in the law firm of Callis, Filloff and Gitchoff with offices at 1326 Niedringhaus Ave.

He said that in addition to resigning these offices, he also will be required to discontinue his law practice when he takes his place on the circuit court bench.

The appointment is for the remainder of Streeper's term which expires in December, 1972. Gitchoff said he plans to campaign for the full six-year term when the appointment expires, which will require him to seek a position on the primary ballot in the 1972 general election.

Gitchoff is a native of Granite City and a lifelong resident of the Quad-City area. He received his law degree at the University of Missouri in 1956, and is licensed to practice in the Illinois and Missouri courts and in the U. S. district and U. S. Supreme courts.

Board Rejects Bids On SIU-SW Facility

The Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University Friday rejected all bids on the temporary athletic facilities at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

Bids received June 15 were all in excess of the previously estimated cost of the project. Efforts to negotiate an acceptable construction price were unsuccessful, trustees were advised.

William Powers Shot to Death At Caseyville

William Marshall Powers, 33, of 29 Lake Drive, Troy, Ill., a former Quad-City resident, was shot to death in a house at 22 West Morris St., Caseyville, Friday morning.

John Ditzler who lived in the house was questioned and released by St. Clair County sheriff's deputies. Authorities said today they have no suspects in the case.

Powers was shot twice in the head about 8:20 a.m., according to Caseyville police. The house in which the shooting occurred is next door to the Caseyville Police Station.

Bay City, Mich., Scene Of Wenner-Lago Wedding

From Bay City, Mich., comes news of the wedding there Sept. 11 of Miss Benelope Lois Lago, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Lago of that city, and Richard Alan Wenner, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wenner, 2224 St. Bernard Ave., Granite City.

The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the Messiah Lutheran Church with the Rev. Ronald Fuller officiating.

The bride approached the altar wearing a gown of ivory silk organza fashioned with a high neckline and cuffed, bishop sleeves. A bi-style bodice of French Alcanon lace of filigree, entwined with ivory velvet ribbon, enhanced the modified Empire bodice from which fell a floor-length circular skirt with a soft brush train.

A face-framer of cotton Venise lace held in place the bride's fingertip veil of silk illusion and she carried an arrangement of yellow carnations, together with bronze pompons and orange straw flowers.

Current 'Jesus Movement' in Need of Religious Direction

By CLAIRE COX
Copley News Service

While the highly publicized "Jesus freaks" are busy trying to make Christ their "own thing," a silent majority of young people are practicing the religions in which they believe by performing good works for others.

With little fanfare, thousands of young people of high school and college age—Christian and Jews—dedicated their summer to projects on which they worked long hours and often lived under trying conditions.

What's more, instead of receiving wages, they often paid to serve their fellowmen.

Youngsters have been preaching the Gospel, presenting religiously oriented entertainment and participating in work-camp projects to improve the lives of others in inner cities and rural areas and on Indian reservations.

Some have gone overseas to carry out their missions.

Their activities ranged from planting trees and repairing rundown churches and homes to campaigning against cigarette smoking and performing gymnastics on national tours.

Speaking for many of the young men who are so dedicated, Steven Harding of Camden, N. J., the youth associate administrator of the United Methodist Council on Youth Ministries, discussed some of the differences between the dedicated youth and the "Jesus freak" movement.

"How we carry out our life for Christ is the basic difference between us and the Jesus freaks," he observed in an interview.

"As I have seen it, the main thrust of the Jesus freaks is the expression of their actual worshiping of Jesus, whereas our group and most other levels of the mainline youth movement have a main mode of expression through their social action—through relating to other persons."

With Harding's help young Methodists have succeeded in winning recognition from their elders in the denomination by being placed in positions of leadership.

They have also been given the right to control their funds and run their own projects instead of being supervised by adults.

As part of their training for leadership, youngsters have been working as interns with the Council on Youth Ministries offices on a subsistence basis.

Others joined the United Methodist Voluntary Service corps to work with alienated youth in the counterculture.

Harding reports that this kind of trust by young people in which they encounter boys and girls of their own age has prompted many alienated youth to knock at the door of the church seeking help in getting training and employment and sometimes even housing and legal aid.

Have been given at least 50 conscientious objectors who have been assigned to church-related tasks.

The Church of the Brethren has offered a number of summer projects for youth, mainly in work camps where they labor by day and evangelize in their spare time, almost entirely at their own expense.

For example, 30 young members of the Church of the Brethren in Elkhart, Ind., worked the projects at home all winter to raise the $7,500 they needed to participate in a two-week camp in an impoverished area of Puerto Rico.

Caravans of volunteer service workers were organized this summer by the Reformed Church in America.

Overseas, they participated in a Taiwan program in which they not only worked but studied Chinese and cultivated friendships with their hosts.

Their caravans, which home traveled about doing odd jobs for local parishes in suburbs and inner cities.

Some conducted day camps. Bible-study groups, vacation church schools and coffeehouse ministries.

All the participants paid their own round-trip fares to Western Theological Seminary in Holland, Mich., where they were trained for their work.

The denomination financed room and board and transportation and Clark Park bl Boy Scout Troop 41 Jordan presented a pilgrimage ribbon to Mrs. Betty Kooley, den mother of Den Four, which has completed the 6½-mile hike. The ribbon will be displayed on the den flag.

Craig Astorian, Philip Bellipanni, Tony Hackney, David Miller and Wayne Wilkins presented pilgrimage patches and Den Chief John Barge received a "repeater" patch.

Boys receiving awards included Frankie Flemming and Shawn Roe, both of Den Three, both at post, Billy Winter, Den Two, bear badge; Tony Hackney, Den Four, bear badge and arrow points; Alan Kirgan, Den Five, dinner bar; and Wayne Wilkins, Den Four, Webelos colors.

Those with birthdays were honored. Boys interested in becoming cub scouts were registered by Mrs. Mabel Lehne, first, Mrs. Eva Shepard, second, Mrs. Juanita Rosenberg, floater prize, and Mrs. Hazel Rollins, consolation.

Others present were Mrs. Myrtle Hickman, Mrs. Evelyn Reinhardt and Mrs. Mary Baumbarger. A late lady and Mrs. Mary Baumbarger, 1601 Lindell Blvd.

Dual Purpose Lighting In her presentation, Miss Davis will present various lighting equipment that may be used for summer landscaping enhancement, then later adapted to outdoor Christmas displays for the holiday season.

The lighting specialist will review in-door gardening techniques, utilizing fluorescent lighting, during the second segment of her program.

A past chairman of the St. Louis Section of the Illuminating Engineering Society, Miss Davis has served on both regional and national lighting committees. She frequently has acted as a judge in lighting contests at the local, regional and national levels.

Designed Systems Miss Davis has taught lighting classes, presented numerous demonstrations and designed lighting systems for many homes and business firms in Madison County. She attended Washington University and has received extensive training in lighting at seminars in Cleveland, Ohio, Salem, Mass., and Chicago.

Mrs. A. A. Malotki Jr., president of the Gardeners Garden Club, said the current display at the Mini-Garden Information Center in the main lobby of the public library features "Gardening Under Lights."

The exhibit shows a section of live greenery under the proper fluorescent fixture, the club officer explained.

Members of the Gardeners will answer questions on indoor plant problems at the conclusion of Mrs. Davis' program, Mrs. Malotki said.

values, ecology, education and racial discrimination.

Seven regional Episcopal committees have been formed, with at least eight young people among the 15 members of each.

The committees have established their own principal focus. In the Northwest it is Indian youth. While along the Pacific Coast it is the alienated "youth movement."

Black rural young people are the central interest in the South, and in the Southwest the Chicanos are receiving help.

Miss Sandra Potillo, Paul Lee Are Married

The wedding of Miss Sandra Potillo, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah M. Potillo, 2445 Illinois Ave., and Paul Richard Lee, a son of Mrs. Bonnie Lee of St. Louis and the late Benjamin Lee, was solemnized Sunday afternoon at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, officiated at the 3 o'clock ceremony by the Rev. Raymond Clodfelder, pastor of Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church, officiated at the 3 o'clock ceremony before an altar banked with late summer flowers and greenery.

Mrs. Russell West, organist, played appropriate wedding selections prior to the ceremony. Kirk Alan Potillo, a brother of the bride, and Richard Eugene Lee, the groom's nephew, were acolytes and served as candle-bearers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of ivory organza designed with a stand-up collar. The cuffs of the long sleeves were woven with pale pink insertion ribbon, providing the only color of her dress. The slightly controlled skirt ended in a full sweep train.

A floor length veil was held in place with ribbons and flowers and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and pink daisies. The bride's only ornament was an enameled brooch which has been in her mother's family since before the Civil War.

Miss Mary Ann Abramovich was maid of honor, serving with Miss Nancy Zang, Mrs. Dennis Hecht and Mrs. Don Padgett, both cousins of the bride. Mrs. Robert Potillo, the bride's sister-in-law and Miss Carolbeth Potillo, sister of the bride, as bridesmaids.

They were dressed in identical formal length gowns, fashioned of pink organza over tulle, with lace bodices, stand-up collars and long sheer sleeves cuffed in lace. The full skirts were appliqued with lace motifs and each wore a pink tux-braid picture hat. They carried colonial bouquets of pink peonies and pink daisies.

The groom chose his brother, Eugene Lee, as best man. Craig Feldmeier, Ron Olive, Michael Dolens, Theodore Brand, and Mark Potillo, a brother of the bride, were groomsmen. Ushers included Joseph Lee and Robert and Kent Potillo, brothers of the bride and groom.

Mrs. Potillo chose for her daughter's wedding a pink and beige knit ensemble with beige accessories. Her corsage was a beige cymbidium orchid.

The groom's mother selected a lilac dress with matching accessories. She wore a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

A reception was given immediately following the ceremony in Wesley Hall of the church. A rehearsal dinner was held at Augustine's restaurant, Belleville, Saturday evening.

The former Miss Potillo graduated from Granite City High School and from SIU-SW. She is employed as librarian at St. Louis Memorial Hospital School of Nursing.

Cooking Corner -- Cold Main Dish Salad Serves as Meal; Make-Ahead Advantage

By SUSAN DELIGHT
Capley News Service

A cold main dish salad with high protein foods included in its ingredients furnishes all of the nutritional advantages of a meal.

This type of salad has many advantages. Among these are make-ahead attributes. The salad can be prepared early in the day and then stored in the refrigerator until serving time. This allows more leisurely food preparation.

Go-alongs for the main dish salad can be a hot vegetable—depending on the salad—hot rolls, icy drinks and a cool refreshing dessert.

SALAD NICISSE
1 can (8 1/2 oz.) diagonal-cut green beans, drained
1 1/2 cups mixed salad greens
2 tomatoes, sliced
2 hard-cooked eggs, cut into wedges
1 can (1 1/2 oz.) salmon, drained
Anchovy fillets, drained
Salmi, cut into triangles and rolled

Black olives
Honey-marinated brussels sprouts
SAUCE VINAIGRETTE
3/4 cup salad oil
3/4 cup tarragon
white wine vinegar
1/4 cup chopped green onion
2 tbsps. snipped fresh parsley
2 tbsps. salt
1 tsp. dry mustard
1 tsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. tarragon, crushed
1 clove garlic, crushed
Four to five servings.

Mix beans in 1/2 cup sauce vinaigrette for one hour, chilling thoroughly. Arrange salad greens on serving platter. Drain marinated beans and honey-marinated brussels sprouts and arrange both on salad platter with remaining ingredients.

Sauce vinaigrette: Combine all ingredients in container with tightly fitting cover. Cover; shake well. Use remaining sauce as a dressing for other salads.

HONEY-MARINATED BRUSSELS SPROUTS
1 package (10 oz.) baby brussels sprouts frozen in butter sauce that clings
1/2 cup salad oil
1/4 cup honey
2 tbsps. vinegar
2 tbsps. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 dry mustard
1/2 tsp. prepared mustard

Cook brussels sprouts according to package directions. Combine remaining ingredients; beat well or buzz in a blender. Partially open pouch; drain butter sauce from brussels sprouts; save for use in soup or gravy. Turn brussels sprouts into a one-quart container; add dressing. Cover; refrigerate several hours or overnight. Drain before serving.

Tip: Cooked potato balls marinated in sauce vinaigrette; capers, artichoke hearts, or green pepper strips are also good in this salad.

SHOWS-OVER SALAD
2 cans (15 oz. each) macaroni and cheese
1/4 cup bottled blue cheese dressing
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 cup cubed cooked ham
1/4 cup diagonally sliced green onion
1 can (5 oz.) boned chicken, cut up
Salad greens

Combine macaroni with dressings. Add ham, onion and chicken. Chill. Serve on salad green. Makes four to six servings.

HOST MUSIC PROGRAMS

Bethel Chapel and Second Baptist Church were hosts at singing programs—conducted last week at their churches. Those taking part in the program were the Brake Family of Clarksville, Tenn., and the Chappellaires, King's Daughters and Four Tones of Granite City.

There were five ministers present as well as a missionary from Beirut, Lebanon.

The next singing program will be held on Oct. 10 at 2 p.m. at the Assembly of God Community Heights Church, Buxton and Faith Avenues. Pastor is the Rev. Sherman Cunningham.

Thorngate Club In Charity Days

Mrs. Lillian Delp of Rural Route Two entertained members of the Thorngate Garden Club for their September meeting last week. She greeted her guests while wearing a pink Hawaiian lei in keeping with the island decorating theme used in the table appointments.

Members were seated at individual tables and received favors of miniature glass bottles filled with fresh flowers.

A delectable luncheon served by guest speaker for the day was Mrs. Judy Iselhardt of Edwardsville, who used as her theme, "It May Be Expensive, But It's Cheaper Than Psychiatry," a quote from John David Burton which also was displayed on a signboard.

Mrs. Iselhardt, who is a librarian and also instructs classes in hobby crafts, displayed various craft items including pinecone swags, pressed flower pictures and creel work pictures. She demonstrated the making of decorative egg viewers and showed various ways to utilize old jewelry in making pictures. She also explained how to frame and display heirlooms, using an antique watch in the demonstration.

The president, Mrs. Robert Polley, conducted the business session and members answered roll call by giving "the structure and characteristics of a leaf."

A favorite reading was presented by Mrs. James Lavelle—"September" by Helen Hunt Jackson.

Mrs. Iselhardt extended an invitation to the ladies to attend a flower show of the Edwardsville garden clubs, at the First Baptist Church on St. Louis Street.

An invitation was received for a "mini garden" program on "Garden Lighting" Sept. 22 from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Granite City Library.

A discussion was held on possible purchase of conservation books for Mitchell School. Mrs. Delp was made chairman of the project and will report at the next meeting.

A new member, Mrs. Frances Polley, was welcomed and plans were made to go to lunch and to Craft Manor in St. Louis in the fall. Mrs. Mary Markham and Mrs. Betty King are co-chairmen of the outing.

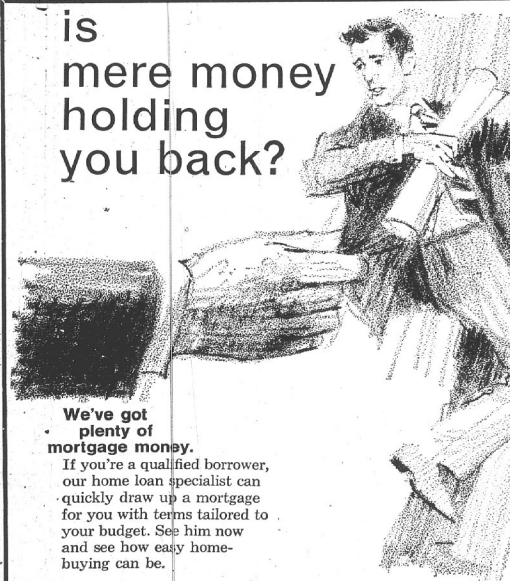

It was proposed that active members of ten years be eligible for sustaining membership; it is to be voted on at the October meeting.

A "work day" is being held to prepare items for the club's booth at the annual "Charity Days" at Nameoki Village. Members will use proceeds from hand-made, miniature dried flower arrangements, as well as home-made jellies and other items, for their annual party for patients at Alton State Hospital.

Guests for the day were Mrs. Irma Schilling and Mrs. Pauline Borchers. Members present included Mesdames Lillian Delp, Wanda Kincaid, Mary Markham, Pearl Young, Beulah Miller, Robert Polley, Thomas King and Jean Bethel and Miss Jean Markham.

Cards were sent to Mrs. Jackie Hackel, who has given birth to a son. Hostess for the October meeting will be Mrs. Robert Polley.

Warriors Open With 7-0 Win, Grid Trojans Nosed Out 14-12

By STEVE BURDGE
GCHS Football Writer

The Granite City Warrior football team opened its season Friday night with a dramatic win over Belleville Althoff, 7-0. The Warriors went into the non-conference game with three lettermen out of injuries.

In the first quarter, both teams had trouble getting started. Each team picked up only one first down. It looked as if it was going to be a tight defensive game from the beginning, as the teams exchanged punts four times.

At the start of the second quarter, Jim Childers of Granite City, took a punt to the Warrior 35-yard line. Run of two yards by Jon Stagner and six yards by Joe Wallace took the Warriors into the end zone.

On the next play, Wallace carried for one yard, but a facemask penalty was called on Althoff and 15 yards were tacked on. This put the Warriors in striking distance for the first time on Belleville's 38.

On the next two running plays, Stagner gained three yards and then lost four yards. Wallace tried a long pass to Chuck Logas, but it was incomplete and the Warriors were forced to punt.

Althoff took over on its own 20 yard line, but on the first play Chuck Kraus forced a fumble from Althoff's Robyn Blaha and Granite City recovered.

Starting from Althoff's 18, Stagner met a tough defense for no gain. On three quick running plays, two by Wallace and one by Logas, the Warriors gained a first down at the eight yard line.

The first down came on a one-yard run by Wallace on fourth down.

Stagner carried to the five and Wallace to the three. Stagner again was stopped, for no gain which brought up another fourth down from the three-yardline.

Logas' diving attempt at a pass failed and Althoff took over on downs. Belleville moved the ball to its own 27 before the half ended.

On the second half kickoff, GCHS fumbled and Althoff recovered on the Warrior 38 for an excellent scoring chance.

However, on the first play from scrimmage, Wallace picked off Mike Abegg's pass and returned it to the 38. Stan-

Stajduhar entered the game for the Warriors and things began to happen.

Stajduhar carried the ball on three successive plays and moved to Althoff's 47 yard line. On a short run by Wallace, and a 13-yard run by Stajduhar, the Warriors had a first down on the 33.

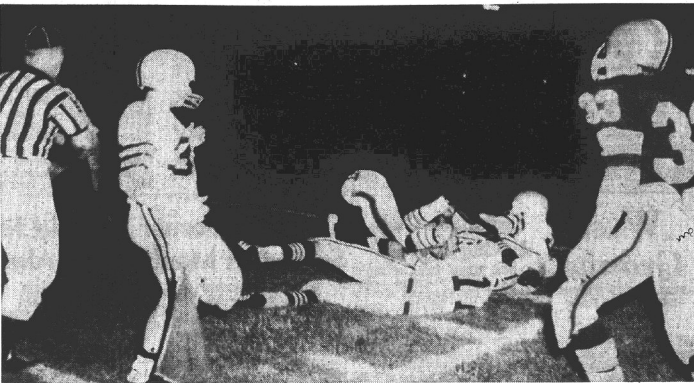

After three running plays picked up seven yards, Stajduhar burst through the line and ran for eight yards and another first down on the 18.

Stajduhar then ran two more plays for a total of 11 yards and another first down. This made it first and goal-to-go from the seven.

Two running plays were stopped. After an incomplete pass, Wallace attempted and made a field goal. But, Althoff was offside and Granite City took the penalty, which took away the field goal.

With the ball on the three, Wallace tried to go around the end and was stopped, and GCHS had another shot from the one.

On the next play, Stajduhar went in for the score and Wallace kicked the extra point for a 7-0 Warrior lead.

After the kickoff and an exchange of punts, the third quarter ended. In the fourth quarter, the Warrior defense showed what it could do.

The defense, especially the line, forced Althoff to punt twice. With time quickly running out, Althoff got the ball on its own 36 and picked up a first down on a pass from Abegg to John Weis.

A holding penalty brought the ball back to the 44. Then Jeff Worthen, defensive end, threw Abegg for a substantial loss.

Granite City took over on downs and ran out the clock to win the season opener.

In the game, Granite City picked up seven first downs to Althoff's five. In just the second half, Stajduhar carried the ball 17 times for 92 yards and one touchdown.

Next, the Warriors travel to Cahokia for a 1:30 p.m. Saturday game.

Cougar Soccer Team 3rd In Meet

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern took third place in the Hartwick Invitational soccer tournament by defeating Dartmouth 5-2 Sunday at Oneonta, N. Y.

Tom Twelman scored a tie-breaking goal in the third quarter and Tom Howe added two more in the fourth to ice the game.

Chris Carencia scored the first two Cougar goals before the game was tied in the third period.

Hartwick, which won the championship by tripping Navy 2-1 Sunday, edged the Cougar and was rescheduled for Saturday while Navy sank Dartmouth 4-2.

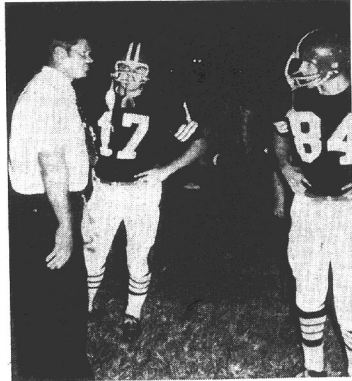

The Cougars, now two-and-one for the season, will host the University of Akron at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Inter-City Play Off Delayed by Rain

The Southwestern Illinois Inter-City Baseball League play-off opener was rained out yesterday and was rescheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday at Fletcher Field, Collinsville, where Motor Motors will host the East Alton Machinists.

The second of the best of three games will be played the following Sunday at Vanmeter Park in East Alton, and a third, if needed, will be decided by a flip of a coin.

Devil, Trojan Cross Country Teams to Meet

The Venice Red Devil and Madison Trojan cross-country teams will meet for the first time in two years on the MHS track at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in what could be a revival of the former competitive spirit between the two schools.

Larry Graham, in his third year as Trojan head track coach, will be assisted this season by Roger Drake.

"Even though we have all new and very inexperienced runners, I still feel we will win. I expect Vernell Glasper and Bernie Wilson to finish well," he said.

The Trojans have a new 2.3-mile course this season. The record so far is 15:05, set by Glasper.

Barkley Bailey is the only senior running for the Red Devils. Juniors running will be Dan Severs, Ray Mosby and Dan McKinney. Three sophomores who will take part Tuesday are Donald Taylor, Mike Logan and Eugene Arnold.

Head coach for VHS is Bill Ohlendorf, assisted by Robert McKinney.

Trojans going down the track in addition to Glasper and Wilson will be Mike Turner and Jay Greer, juniors, Jon Henke, a sophomore, and Terrence Young, a senior.

When the two teams ran in 1969, the Trojans won 15-40. They will meet again on Sept. 30 at Madison.

Warriors Place 7th In Meet

The Granite City High School cross-country meet Saturday at the Belleville West Invitational. The Warriors finished seventh in a field of 10 schools, with a score of 47.

Seven races were run as the schools grouped their top runners together for one race, and down the line to the seventh best runner of each team running in the seventh race.

Howie Bryant, the Warrior's top runner, finished third in 15:22 on a hilly 2.3-mile track.

Other hurriers for GCHS who ran are Mike Adams, 6th, 16:30 in the second race; Bruce Burger, 8th, 18:08 in the third race; and Mark Ortiz, 8th, 19:00 in the fourth race.

In the fifth, sixth and seventh races were Pat Olsen, 8th, 18:40; Tim Sheridan, 7th, 18:14; and Rich Paschedag, 6th, in 18:47.

Madison High School's football Trojans never gave up but their rally fell two points short as they lost 14-12 to Central of St. Louis late Friday afternoon in the MHS gridiron. It was the season opener for Coach Al Vonder Haar's inexperienced but hard-charging Trojans.

MHS points makers were Charles Johnson on a 30-yard run in the second quarter and Ed Chandler on a 70-yard pass play from John Newsome in the final period.

Seven proved to be a lucky figure for the visitors, who saw Madison fumble the ball on seven different occasions. Central recovered the ball every time.

Although their lack of game experience prevented them from inaugurating the new campaign with a victory, the Trojans had nothing to apologize about. Their performance was impressive in many ways, and in a different sequence of events, might have proved successful on the scoreboard as well as in the statistics.

MHS led 12-7 in first downs, 206-135 in net yards on running plays and 58-26 in yardage through the air, completing three of ten passes to Central's two of five.

Central took a 6-0 lead into the second quarter on a 15-yard TD run by Charles Cooper, capping a 50-yard march.

Johnson's tying touchdown saunter climaxed a 60-yard MHS advance following a fumble recovery by Roger Glasper, a 175-pound junior.

After a 66 half-time deadlock, a lost fumble on the MHS 20 enabled Central to score early in the fourth period. Elias Walker tallying on a five-yard scamper. When Walker carried the ball across after the TD, Central had a 14-6 edge.

Three minutes remained when Newsome connected with Johnson on a 15-yard pass and then aerieled to 100-pound Chandler, who outmaneuvered his "one on one" defender and scored. Fleet Chandler earled had chalked up gains of 24, 21, 27, 17 and 39 yards.

Falling to convert the extra points on a run, MHS tried an on-side kickoff and gained possession on Central's 40-yard line. But the enemy defense held and Central took over the ball with two seconds left.

POINT CHAMPION at the Tri-City Speedway this season was Bubby Jones of Danville, shown emerging from his sprint car after qualifying in Friday's program, the last scheduled race of the season.

Jones, Myers Earn Point Titles In Thrilling Race Friday Night

Bubby Jones of Danville and Bill Myers of Rosewood Heights earned point championships for the season at the Tri-City Speedway despite an unsuccessful night of racing Friday for both drivers.

Jones entered Friday night's program with an almost untouchable super sprint point lead over Bill Utz of Sedalia, Mo., and Wil Spalding of Ponton Beach.

Jones added to his points with the fastest qualifying time of 23.73 seconds, but was unable to complete the feature race because of oil pressure problems in his sprinter. Utz finished first in the feature race but had to settle for second in the season point battle.

In the late model stock cars, the battle for the point championship went to the wire with Mrs. Myers leading Spalding by only 80 points going into the race program. Fast qualifying time pays 50 points and the winner of the feature is awarded 80 points with 70 for second, 60 for third, and down to 10 points for eighth.

Myers and Spalding tied for fast time at 27.14 seconds, but Myers' lead at 80 points. During the feature Myers' car was involved in a massive pileup and his pit crew worked frantically to get the car running again.

Spalding led the pack at the time with Myers second, and with Myers' 1970 Mustang out of the action, Spalding could have won the event, finishing in a tie for the point lead.

As the flagman prepared to give the order to have Myers' car towed off the track and out of the race, the tall driver jumped in the vehicle and with a push from his pit crew, returned to the action.

He was unable to pass Spalding but claimed 70 points for second place to earn the point crown.

STOCK CAR KING, Bill Myers of Rosewood Heights smiles after earning the point crown in the late model stock division Friday night.

Because of the triple header program and cold weather, the program was trimmed to qualifying in the sprint and late model classes and a feature in the midjet feature were determined by drivers drawing a number from a hat.

Duke Durosa of Springfield, started in the 14th position in a 18 car midjet pack and managed to work his way to the lead twice for victory. In the ninth lap of the 20-lap feature, he went under Mike Hill, of Kansas City, Mo., the St. Louis midjet champion last year, for the lead. Seconds later Durosa's car spun and the yellow flag was displayed. He was dropped to last position in the first lap of green, worked his way through the trailing four cars. One more lap and he claimed third, and on the 18th lap he went under Hill and Spalding, then the leader, to take control.

The super sprint feature was marred by a tremendous dispute between track officials, drivers, pit crews and eventually fans over the placement of Jones' car in the lineup following a massive pileup.

Jones was running second behind Utz when several cars were being lapped went out of control, blocking the track.

Ronnie Franklin of St. Louis lost control of his sprinter and slid and Jones slammed into the side of his car as Utz slipped by on the bottom. Several other cars were involved and the event was halted while track officials decided whether Jones should be placed at the tail of the pack or should remain in second.

The dispute broke into a fight on the judges' stand and the owner of Jones' sprinter was struck by a spectator.

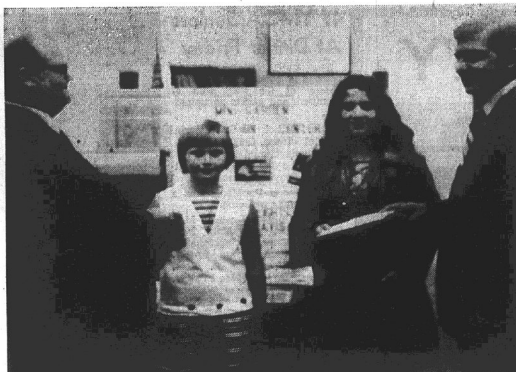

Jones volunteered to start in last place and the race was restarted. By the 16th lap, he had worked his way to third behind Utz and Jimmy Moughon of Springfield, but developed oil pressure problems and was forced to drop out.

The late model feature was marred by a pileup in which the car of George Gruenfelder of Madison struck the rear of Myers' second-place car, spinning Myers' car which was then struck by three other stockers.

Spalding won the event with Myers second, C. C. Corbin of East Alton third and Lyle Coe fourth.

The event marked the last racing program of the season at the local speedway although the Capital City Speedway in Jefferson City, Mo., sister track to the Tri-City Speedway, will continue with Sunday afternoon races for several weeks.

SPIDER HOLES

Tunnels in turf and pastures that go straight into the soil are the homes of large spiders.

Tunnel openings up to 3/4 inch in diameter that penetrate the soil as much as 12" or more are just some of the fascinating aspects of these creatures. Tunnel openings are smooth and suggest frequent use. Cicada killer wasps produce similar burrows but always slant into the soil and have a small pile of soil at the entrance.

These spiders are granddaddy wolf spiders. Young wolf spiders as well as these granddaddys are hunting spiders which naturally occur in wooded areas and vacant properties. Young wolf spiders are often found in garages, outside buildings and woodpiles. They are harmless and very shy.

GARDEN CHRYSANTHEMUMS

Extra water in September is an important key to profuse flowering and rich colors. If your garden mums are off-colored and stunted you still have time to start a watering program. Soak your flower bed once every week with a lawn soaker. Add enough water to wet the soil several inches deep.

DISCOURAGING FESCUE
Tall Fescue is the clumps of coarse grass which survives everything and gradually spreads. When pure stands of Tall Fescue are grown the "coarse grass" appearance disappears to become a normal lawn. If you have the clumps you may decide to add more seed and convert to a solid stand of Tall Fescue. When the clumps are scattered you can eliminate them by digging each clump and patching with sod.

MORE ABOUT Open Burning

is necessary to do so. We add that garbage is not to be burned in such cases; that local laws must be complied with; that such activities may be stopped if they in fact cause pollution; and that this exception is not to be abused by calling a burning refuse heap a bonfire or by roasting wieners over a pile of leaves.

The enforcement of the new regulations will be the responsibility of local government agencies. "The agency can not do it alone. If we are to have a clean environment, we must have the cooperation of governments at all levels," the board said.

The Granite City Air Pollution Control Board has stated that police in Granite City will be given the task of citing offenders within the city limits. It is expected that other local police departments will be given the authority this month.

MORE ABOUT Howlett

indicated in the past that he would be more amenable to running for secretary of state if anyone but John Lewis were the probable Republican nominee.

Howlett not only has a high personal regard for Lewis, but has respect for him as a man who would be hard to beat.

But the racing controversy has wrecked Lewis' once formidable political stature and few at the Statehouse expect him to run in 1972.

Republicans are also caught short as far as a strong replacement is concerned, especially anyone with a political name to match that of the undeniably popular Howlett.

Up to now, no Democrat with the exception of Howlett has received serious Statehouse consideration as a secretary of state candidate. This situation will now undergo change.

But as of now it is considered a good bet that Mike Howlett will take a second look at secretary of state and the 1972 ticket will begin to fill out with Simon for governor and Chicago attorney Thomas Foran for attorney general.

Nameoki Declares Eagle Park Urban Area to Qualify it for Insurance

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors, adopting a resolution last week designating Eagle Park Acres as an urban area.

The action will enable residents in the unincorporated community, located south of Madison, off Route 203, to qualify under state statutes for fire insurance. Portions of Eagle Park Acres lie in both Nameoki and Venice townships.

A similar resolution was adopted earlier by Venice Township officials and, on Tuesday, the Madison County Board of Supervisors also declared Eagle Park as an urban area.

It was explained the formal designation will require state agencies to recognize the community as an urban entity.

Eagle Park residents have been unable to qualify to obtain fire insurance coverage, regardless of their property's value. The lack of coverage has impeded seriously the area's growth and development, the board was told.

Several homes have been destroyed by fire in recent years, with the occupants sustaining a total loss.

Insurance still will fall into the "high risk" category, one official noted. However, coverage previously unavailable can be assigned in an urban area for qualified applicants through a state agency in a procedure similar to that of "risk" auto insurance.

Township Attorney William Schooley said the action taken by the three boards does not obligate the townships in any way.

The same unincorporated area was the subject of a letter from Assistant State's Attorney Marshall Smith which sought the township's cooperation in establishing street lights in Eagle Park.

Smith noted the all-black community is considered a "high crime area" and that installation of adequate street lighting would help to reduce violence and crime. The county supervisor and Venice Township officials also are being petitioned for assistance, Smith said.

Nameoki Supervisor Louis E. Whitsell said the best approach to the problem appears to be in the formation of a street lighting district for Eagle Park.

He reported that a community organization earlier had some street lights installed on a fee basis, but the system was discontinued for economic reasons. Several property owners then had the lights converted into "nite lights," paying for the operation on an individual basis, Whitsell learned from Illinois Power Co.

Nameoki Highway Commissioner Albert Bell said he replied affirmatively to an inquiry from county officials seeking to determine the township's interest in submitting names of unemployed persons to be hired under the federal Emergency Employment Act funding program.

Allocated $306,900

Madison County recently was allocated $306,900 in federal funds, to be supplemented by the county with $44,100, to create an estimated 68 jobs in Madison County for unemployed persons.

A supervisor in the county Sanitation and Pollution Department told Bell that veterans and families will be given preference in hiring. Under county jurisdiction, those employed with EEA funds and assigned to the jobs discussed by Bell, will clear roadside areas and clean streams and waterways in the county.

Bell said the township was requested to furnish a truck and driver to haul debris from work sites in the township area.

Whitsell commented, "I think our cleanup campaign is long overdue and we should take advantage of this program and let the government pay for it."

A man in the audience suggested conditions should be improved in handling dogs picked up by Nameoki Township rabies control officers.

He said greater care should be taken when handling animals to avoid unpleasant odors near the township offices, located on Highway 162.

The spectator also complained that dogs kept in cages at the same location, awaiting transfer to the county rabies center, frequently are without water and bark constantly. He also suggested animals which have bitten a person should be quarantined from other dogs.

Whitsell said that dogs buried near the township office are only those killed on highways and Michael Orasco, township rabies control officer, stated that dogs are properly fed and watered and remain at the township cages less than one day.

The township supervisor reported at a meeting of the Long Lake Fire District he learned that fire plugs for the township would cost $500 each.

Hydrants could be installed on a rental basis at a cost of $85 each, but this procedure would require the services of a rental agency to collect fees from individuals, he said.

Noting that he was the only person to show up at the fire district meeting, Whitsell said, "I am sorry to say Long Lake Fire District apparently will not do anything for us."

Township Collector Edgar "Pat" Patrick said in excess of $17,000 has been collected to date with the funds presently deposited in a checking account. He offered to turn over the tax money to the township immediately if the funds are invested. The offer was accepted and the board agreed to invest the money.

State Approves Request for GC Air Board Grant

The process of establishing a full-time Granite City Air Pollution Control Board began last week after the local board was informed a $26,000 federal grant application has been approved by the state Environmental Protection Agency and has been forwarded to the federal EPA for final approval.

The application has been tied up in the state pollution control agencies since it was first submitted three years ago. "I feel that at last we have a working contract with the state," Ted W. Macios, acting board technical secretary, commented.

The federal funds are to be matched with $14,000 in city funds to give the proposed new department a $40,000 operating budget.

At Tuesday evening's board meeting, a committee was established to begin interviewing persons for full-time positions of assistant technical secretary, technician and office secretary.

Methods of local enforcement of an open burning ban were discussed and board members indicated the utilization of the police department to cite violators would be the most effective control.

Macios reported that letters to two business establishments, sent after the last meeting, seemed to have been effective in halting open burning in those locations. Letters also were sent to the Chamber of Commerce and the Associated Retailers & Civic Assn., Inc., asking them to request member businesses to halt all open burning. "We have not yet heard from those groups," Macios said.

Course in Curriculum Development Offered

A graduate course in curriculum development will be offered in Madison during the first quarter by the Extension Services of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

The course, entitled "Concepts and Principles of Curriculum Development," secondary education 560, will be taught by Mylan Smyers, associate professor on the secondary education division at SIU-SW.

The basic principles of curriculum theory and practice and social and cultural changes as factors in curriculum development will be included in the course, according to H. B. Brubaker, head of Extension Services.

Registration will be held at the first and second class meetings, which will begin Wednesday in the cafeteria building at Marissa High School at 6:30 p.m. The high school is located at 315 East Lyons Street, Marissa.

Four graduate credit hours may be earned for the course. Tuition for the 12 week course is $24.

Car Stolen in Madison

The 1962 station wagon of Lavetta F. Wells, 1907 Fourth St., Madison, was stolen Thursday while parked in the 1400 block of Second Street, the owner told police this morning.

Stevens and Adams are co-authors of two books, "College and University Student Work Programs: Implications and Implementations," and a soon-to-be published volume, "A Student Job Classification Plan for Colleges and Universities."

Stevens also is co-author with others of "Secondary Education," a prominent area and STU athlete, he says his first love is teaching and that he responded reluctantly when drafted repeatedly as an administrator.

Dr. Stephens Retiring; Led University Campus 3 Years

Dr. Clarence W. Stephens, former vice-president in charge of the Southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University, has elected to retire Oct. 1 after 36 years in Illinois schools.

For the past year, he has served in one of SIU's high administrative posts as chairman of the University Administrative Council. Previously, he had been the university budget officer, was a special assistant to President D. W. Morris, and for three months in 1970 was a special assistant to the chancellor of the Carbondale campus.

He was vice-president for operations at SIU-SW for three years beginning in 1961.

As council chairman, Dr. Stephens headed a group composed of two vice-presidents, two chancellors and the chief of board staff. The council was established by the SIU Board of Trustees when Morris became president emeritus in September 1970.

As chairman, Dr. Stephens was in reality temporary head of the university during the transitional year when the two campuses were largely separated while remaining under one board.

Although only 59, Dr. Stephens now is eligible with his 16 years of service—for benefits which otherwise would not have been available until he was 60. In addition to long delayed travel, he may do some work as a consultant. He has been asked by some members of SIU board to be available for special assignments.

Comment by Chairman

Harold R. Fischer of Granite City, said yesterday, "With the retirement of Clarence Stephens, SIU loses a highly competent man whose unusual abilities have earned for him professional recognition and respect throughout Illinois."

In a quiet but forceful manner, he has responded repeatedly and successfully when his assistance was needed in critical situations. It will be most fortunate if he is available as a consultant."

Dr. Stephens graduated from SIU in 1933. He earned a master degree at the University of Illinois and a doctor of education degree at Indiana University.

He is a native of Sparta, Ill., where he was an Illinois educator as teacher, coach and principal at high schools in Sparta, Caryle, Zionsville, and Metropolis. He came to SIU in 1952 as an instructor at the University School.

He was the university's first director of student work and financial assistance, one of the nation's leading programs in this type and now directed by Frank C. Adams, also a Sparta native.

A WORD OF ADVICE FROM ILLINOIS POWER:

Now is the time to check your chimney

If you heat your home with gas, coal or oil, now is the time to check your chimney flue. During the summer months, some chimneys become blocked with soot, bird nests or falling bricks. This creates a safety hazard when furnaces are used in the fall.

To check a gas furnace vent, hold a lighted match under the draft diverter. If the flame is pulled into the diverter, the vent is clear and safe to use. If the flame blows back, the vent is blocked and unsafe.

To check a coal or oil furnace vent, remove the vent pipe and hold a mirror inside the chimney to see if it is clear.

If you have any questions on how to examine your chimney or furnace, just call your Illinois Power office. We'll be glad to advise you.

The St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority has announced the dates for a series of hearings in Missouri on the proposed Waterloo site for the $350 million airport facility.

Arven H. Saunders, executive director of the authority, said the decision to hold Missouri hearings was made "to truly give everyone an opportunity to express his opinion."

Asked if unfavorable response from Missourians at the hearings could damage the case for an Illinois airport, Saunders commented, "It is a danger."

Five hearings are scheduled Oct. 18 to 22, four in St. Louis and one in Clayton, Mo. The first will be at 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 18, in the Gold Room of the Jefferson Hotel, 415 N. 12th St. St. Louis, with a session at 8 p.m. the following day in the Envoy Room of the Diplomat Motor Inn, 433 N. Kingshighway St. Louis.

The third session will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 20, in the Grand Saloon of the Hilton St. Louis. The hearings will be regular meeting.

Mrs. Mildred Pratt offered prayer. Lunch was served and the rest of the day was spent playing games.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bilbry, Mr. and Mrs. Al Harden, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ziegler, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Tessari, Bill Hines, Joe Gondolfo, Ignace Weiss, Bill Meehan, and Mesdames Mary Dezan, Nettie Gnojewski, Catherine Corneaux, Toni Rasin, Marie Currens, Bess Shell, Rose Zotti, Sylvia Meyer, Laura Miller, Mary Dittman, Nora McColl, Mildred Pratt, Ann Hartman, Nina Payne, Ann Boelling and Ellen Creamer.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bilbry, 638 Lincoln Ave., are home after spending three days on a bus tour to Nashville, Tenn.

They visited the Hermitage, President Jackson's old home, place, and the Grand Ole Opry, and Hall of Fame.

On the return trip, the 36 tourists visited Cave-in-Rock State Park.

The Yak Yak Club met last week at the Lee Park Recreation Center with Mrs. Kate Dymas serving as hostess.

The members drew names for the annual Christmas party Dec. 11. Games were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Beulah Sizemore and Mrs. Faye Smith.

Refreshments were served to the above and Mesdames Mary Guenther, Margaret Stover, Faye Bailey, Bonnie Gibbs, Dorothy Scaries, Josephine Simmons and Ethel Moore.

The next meeting will be on Sept. 27, with Mrs. Gibbs as hostess.

of the Colony Motor Hotel, 7730 Bonhomme, Clayton, at 7 p.m. the following evening and the final hearing will be at 9 a.m. Friday, Oct. 22, in the Napolean Ensuite of the Ramada Inn Southwest, 800 Highway Drive, St. Louis.

May Delay Timetable

"The hearings will delay our previous timetable by 30 days," Saunders said. He added that final applications to the Federal Aviation Administration for site approval and to the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council for approval of $85 million in Federal funds will be submitted about Nov. 9.

What we are really working for now is site approval," Saunders said.

Announcement of the additional hearings followed an announcement Monday that the Waterloo site is consistent with areawide planning of the Gateway Council. A staff report said the Illinois site best matches regional planning. The staff report will be presented to the council Oct. 6 for action on the preliminary application.

Don Sokol, deputy director of the council, commented the staff report contains several questions which must be answered by the airport authority concerning zoning, land use and the role of local governmental bodies near the proposed site.

"These questions will present no problem and will be answered by the authority," Saunders stated.

The Gateway Council must make recommendations to the FAA on the preliminary and final applications for federal funding of the airport. The preliminary application was filed last month and will be brought before the council, probably at the next regular meeting.

Youth Injured in Diving Mishap Returns to Area

Tom Hooks, 18, of Venice, who was injured critically in a diving accident while attending a national scouting meeting in Washington, D.C., June 4, came home last week by plane, and is now in Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

Young Hooks, who has been paralyzed by the accident, has been in a Washington Hospital since his injury, and faces many more months in the physical therapy section of the St. Louis Hospital.

He was accompanied on the flight home last week by his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Harlin Hooks. His mother had been with him in Washington since the accident. Young Hooks is an Eagle Scout and active in Explorer Post 10-4 of Madison.

The Venice Lions Club recently presented to Rick Hooks, older brother of the injured youth, a check for $4,889 representing proceeds of a barbecue sponsored by the Venice Lions Club and aided by a number of Boy Scout units, veteran organizations and individuals.

The barbecue was held over a two-day period, and total proceeds of all ticket returns are made, may exceed $5,000.

The benefit was held to assist the family in treatment of the Hooks youth who suffered spinal injuries and a crushed cervical in the accident which occurred at a hotel swimming pool.

Plan Diagrams On Interstate Roads in State

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield—The Illinois highway division agrees that one picture is worth a thousand words—and besides, motorists approaching an interchange don't have time to read a thousand words.

So within the next few weeks, the highway division is going to start drawing pictures for interstate motorists, showing them by overhead diagrams how to make a left or right turn off the high traffic routes.

None of the diagrammatic signs have been installed as yet, but George Moberly, acting traffic safety engineer for the division, said the first of them should be up by the end of October.

Moberly said the signs are part of a larger plan for increasing highway safety, which also includes moving road signs back from road edges, mounting them on breakaway posts, and using improved reflecting materials on sign messages.

The diagrammatic signs will be installed one mile ahead of major interchanges, Moberly said, to get traffic into the proper lane at a safe distance from the interchange.

Since the overhead signs are more expensive than conventional markers, they will not be used on approaches to less heavily used interchanges.

To permit testing of the effectiveness of the experimental signs, Moberly said, all other road construction work will be completed, and equipment moved out of the area, before signs are erected.

Checks will then be run to measure the traffic flow, speeds when leaving the ramp, and apparent motorist confusion about turning off the Interstate, with only conventional signs.

The same checks will be run again after the new overhead signs are installed, Moberly said, to see if they significantly improve traffic movement.

To date, the state has completed about half the program of moving all Interstate roadside signs back to 35 feet, from 12 feet, from the shoulder, and mounting the signs along heavily traveled routes on breakaway metal posts, designed to slide off their bases on impact.

On less used roads, the signs are being mounted on either perforated metal posts or 4 by 6 inch wood posts, instead of the 6 by 6 inch poles previously used. The new posts have been shown to snap on impact, without serious injuries to drivers or heavy damage to vehicles, he said.

That program, started about three years ago, will be completed as money becomes available, possibly a period of several years, though the new posts and distances are used in all new road construction.

The diagrammatic signs to be installed will have a green background with the message in white, and will have a life expectancy of 10 to 12 years, instead of the present six years, because of improved materials now available, Moberly said.

Commenting on the program, Illinois Public Works Director William Cellini said, "Improved signing is but one of many traffic safety programs now being carried out in Illinois, along with improved guard rail protection and increasing research into the causes of accidents."

"Last year," he added, "Illinois led the more populous states in the nation in reducing traffic fatalities. We certainly feel that traffic safety programs made a direct contribution in saving these lives."

Donations needed for the benefit sale include handicraft and handmade items, bakery goods, all types of furniture, including garden pieces, tools, toys, "white elephant" objects and similar items.

State Health Services Will Be Computerized

By PAULA MUSTO
Copley News Service

Springfield - Many a moviegoer was probably held in awe by a recent popular science fiction when men in a suit of a computer have could push buttons to get all types of medically related information - from lab analysis on an old sample of blood showing how people in an area might be affected by a spreading disease.

A product of a Hollywood producer's imagination? Hardly.

Computerized medicine has reached the point where it is no longer in the realm of science fiction. It is what is happening today - the state of Illinois.

Computerized laboratory analysis and demographic health information are just a small part of a new statewide program which is designed to be the first step in computerizing health services.

The program, under auspices of the Illinois Department of Public Health, is THIS (Total Health Information System).

It is a multi-year project designed to establish a single computer-based health information system in Springfield which will serve both public and private health resources in the state.

THIS will store information in a central computer center rather than in the file drawers of thousands of doctors' offices, public agencies and hospitals throughout the state.

The type of information will include "total" health care, meaning case histories on tuberculosis patients, registry of venereal disease cases, data on numerous other infectious diseases, progress of measles immunization drives and listing of mental diseases and life of the cadets.

THIS also will store information on the number of persons on Medicaid in each county, the air pollution level in each city, where the nearest osteopath can be found and how many cases of rheumatic fever were diagnosed in a certain area.

Basically, all the information will be available with the push of the button of a master computer.

Of course, THIS, which has been in development stages for many years, will not be implemented overnight.

The CBPO has been operating since Nov. 1, 1968, and handles personnel administrative functions for the 500-man group. It works with the military personnel reporting system has received consistently high monthly ratings from the Air Force Personnel Center at Denver.

Col. Beaumont also announced the group attained a C-3 rating in its combat readiness, based on operational capability. Letters of congratulations on the rating were received from Maj. Gen. Earl O. Anderson, commander of the Eastern Air Force Reserve Region, and Brig. Gen. Campbell Y. Jackson, commander of the 54th Military Airlift Wing.

The 32nd is the only Reserve unit in the nation flying the McDonnell-Douglas C-9 Nightingale hospital aircraft. The unit presently is recruiting registered nurses to serve as flight nurses on aeromedical airlift missions throughout the U. S.

Pontoon Board Seeks Candidates for Clerk

Mayor Thomas Staicoff of Pontoon Beach said today the vacancy of a village clerk will be made as soon as a qualified candidate can be found. The vacancy was created by the resignation of Mrs. Kathleen Bledsoe, who is leaving the community.

Sincerely regret that Mrs. Bledsoe is moving away from the village. She has worked very hard and done a tremendous job for the community," Staicoff said.

He reported notifying village trustees to secure the names of residents interested in filling the clerk's post and said the appointment will be made as quickly as possible.

Swank to Be Asked to Stay in Welfare Post

Harold Swank, 57, director of the Illinois Department of Public Aid, has resigned effective Oct. 1, reportedly in connection with a contract over Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie canceling a contract with Educational Testing Associates, a Chicago firm that tests welfare recipients for employability at $35 a person.

Former U.S. Senator Ralph T. Smith negotiated the contract and the Chicago firm was to measure up to state standards.

"This will relieve the professional staff of all the paperwork of processing reports," Thomas Stuckey reports, chief of the division of data processing which is involved in the programming of THIS project.

Instead of having the high-paid personnel spending all the time writing reports, they can be out in the field doing the things the computer cannot do.

"Too often in the past, by the sheer numbers of reports that had to be written, the inspectors were not able to get around to seeing that the deficiencies were corrected," Stuckey notes.

Business Unfairly Blamed as Cause Of Nation's Troubles; Its Profits Provide Jobs, Government Revenue

(First of two parts)
(Remarks by Urban T. Kuccho, president of the A. O. Smith Corp., at the Tri-City Chamber of Commerce luncheon and industry recognition lunch during observance of the Granite City Diamond Jubilee.)
Seventy-five years old with good health and vigor is something to celebrate. As I look at Granite City today and compare it with the city I saw 75 years ago when we were looking for a plant site, I say, "You've come a long way, baby."

The citizens, business and professional leaders of this community have reason to be proud of the Granite City today and compare it with the city I saw 75 years ago when we were looking for a plant site, I say, "You've come a long way, baby."

The pride of Granite City extends back to Dr. George Caldwell, who was your first settler. He purchased land in Granite City in 1802.
Then Madison County was established in 1812. Five years later, a group of Pennsylvanians set up house in a community called Six Mile Prairie.

What intrigues me most about the history of Granite City is that your actual birth came because businessmen wanted to establish a new city for the purpose of building factories to produce goods to sell throughout the country.

The very name of your city comes from the ingredient used to manufacture granite, and those pots and pans made by the Niedringhaus family.

I think it is most fitting that the first official function of your Diamond Jubilee celebration be in recognition of business and industry. For it is business and industry which built this city.

It was the desire of the Niedringhaus family to expand its factories outside of St. Louis that led to the founding of Granite City.

Even before your incorporation as a city, factories and steel mills were being built. The first heat was poured at the Granite City steel plant six months before Granite City was officially proclaimed.

I wanted to recite the history of your city to make a point. And it is this: The growth and prosperity of Granite City — the growth and prosperity of our entire nation in fact — are directly to the health of the business community.

This fact is often overlooked by some, but it does not prosper, if profits are not earned, then there are no jobs, no taxes and, of course, no growth. If profit making had not been the motive of the Niedringhaus family, there perhaps would be no Granite City today.

Business prospered because the communities in which they are located recognize that a factory is an asset, that it can be a company overcome its problems is just as important to a community as maintaining schools, churches and hospitals.

When A. O. Smith was looking around the country in the post-World War II period for a place to locate a new plant, we were desperately looking for a reliable source of raw materials. We had to expand to take care of our customers. But before we could do that, we had to find a steel source. We came to Granite City and met with the late Mr. Brothers, Nick Veeder, John Marshall and Jim Hamilton and talked to them about the possibility of a plant with thousands of tons of steel a year.

We also talked with civic officials of the Chamber of Commerce and others about locating a plant here.

Today, as all of you know, we are one of Granite City's largest industries. We buy about 100,000 tons of steel a year from Granite City Steel and we employ between 1,100 and 1,500 persons.

In the early days, we had a lot of difficulty getting our plant to function with the way we wanted. We had machinery trouble and we had labor trouble.

In 1908, after repeated labor difficulties, we had another strike. Because our earning record was negative after 10 years of operation, our board instructed me to close the plant.

I remember well Nick Veeder heading a group of Tri-City officials who visited me in my office in Milwaukee. It was the intention of this group which helped us decide to stay here. They helped us establish labor dispute and they worked hard to remove some of the problems we faced.

I mention this instance because that was industry, commerce and government at work. So today, we are still here producing frames by the thousands, employing lots of Tri-City residents and paying a substantial tax bill every year.

Shakespeare said, "The course of true love never did run smooth." And so it is in business. Lasting relationships are frequently the result of finding a solution to an abrasive problem.

To illustrate how important business can be to a community, let me cite some statistics.

It has been estimated that 100 new factory jobs means a community will have 286 more people, 112 more households, 51 more school children, $500,000 more personal income per year, $20,000 more in bank deposits, 107 more passenger cars, 174 more employees in service related industries, four more retail establishments and $300,000 more retail sales per year.

For the past few years, business has been on the defensive. We have been under attack by people who know nothing about the contribution of business to society and who believe that it is business which has caused most of the country's troubles.

It is time to go on the offensive.

Several years ago, the governor of Ohio ran a series of ads, trying to attract companies to locate their plants in his state.

The theme was "Profit is not a dirty word in Ohio."

I, for one, don't believe that profit is a dirty word anywhere. We have attained the highest degree of progress in the history of the world because our founding fathers, from the time of Governor Bradford, were wise enough to realize that a man will work hardest when he can least the rewards of his labor for himself.

That incentive turned a starving and dying community into one of such well being that the holiday "Thanksgiving" was born.

I had a discussion the other day with some associates regarding the social responsibilities of a corporation. The demands that are made of corporations are, in many cases, so unrealistic, that I wanted to know if you could give me the land to insure that I had not lost touch with the times.

Do people really expect corporations to rebuild cities and carry the load of social reform? Well, my associates answered, there is a trend in the land in that direction.

If this thinking prevails, our system will change from free enterprise to regulation and control. Recent events are casting doubt on that.

I believe the number one objective of every factory and store and shop must be to create jobs. If you can't pay taxes, grow and provide opportunity. And this is an old story. It is not new.

While contributing to the stability of his administration, however, only the secretaries — Atty. Gen. John Mitchell — is expected to play a major part in Mr. Nixon's campaign strategy.

Republicans who boast of the president's wisdom in selecting a Cabinet are quick to note that two former secretaries — George Shultz in Labor and Robert Finch in Health, Education and Welfare — are still with the administration and in offices even closer to the president.

Shultz moved over to head the Office of Management and Budget, a White House innovation of Mr. Nixon's, while Finch left HEW to become a personal counselor to his old California ally at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Democrats who cite alleged weaknesses in Mr. Nixon's Cabinet as a personnel disaster say Finch only was moved out because he could not satisfactorily administer the bureaucratic maze of HEW.

Much Unfinished Business Awaits Assembly, Including Implementation of Constitution

With the new Illinois Constitution keeping prior legislative business alive, and the General Assembly due to meet again Oct. 5, the work of the January-June 1971 session is receiving intensive scrutiny. Here is a recap of the unfinished business.

LABOR — A 28% increase in Workmen's Compensation and Occupational Diseases benefits was voted. The state's first minimum wage law was passed, along with a ban on importation of strikebreakers and a provision on employers asking whether a job applicant had ever been arrested.

A bill to make all overtime work voluntary was tabled. Held until fall were a 20% unemployment compensation increase, public employee bargaining rights and Fair Employment Practices Commission initiatory powers.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT — The Assembly passed a bill allowing communities to issue revenue bonds to prepare complete industrial sites.

CONSUMERS — Safety glass legislation was required in all hazardous locations. All other major consumer bills have been pending all session on the Uniform Consumer Credit Code pending in both houses.

WELFARE — A bill passed calling for the public aid department to send recipients who have been in Illinois less than one year back to their most recent state of domicile. Several bills were adopted allowing the state to maximize possible federal tax aid. Defeated were several bills on measures substantially increasing welfare costs.

TAXES — Proposed amendments to the new Illinois Constitution eliminating an 8-5 income tax ratio between businesses and individuals, retaining business personal property taxes and eliminating the 2½-1 real estate classification ratio were held until fall.

Also held were bills seeking to eliminate food and medicine from the sales tax, calling for a 3% local sales tax and making changes in the corporate franchise tax base.

Defeated was a bill eliminating food and medicine from the sales tax. Passed were bills giving state aid to individuals, estates, trusts, pension and profit-sharing plans but not to businesses.

INSURANCE — "No fault" insurance passed. The continuation of the compensation rating system failed, taking with it the state's assigned risk plan. Also passed was a fund to guard against insurance company insolvencies.

The concept of contributory negligence was eliminated. The bill eliminating the concept of contributory negligence was defeated.

EDUCATION — Higher education budgets passed.

Washington — In the ability to recruit and retain Cabinet secretaries, the Nixon administration has a record to match.

Richard Nixon is doing as well, or slightly better, than his predecessor, Dwight D. Eisenhower, because of lack of clout on Capitol Hill and was replaced by John Edgar Hoover, a member of the opposition party better versed in the ways of Washington.

Republicans, however, brush aside these criticisms in favor of an argument that Mr. Nixon's Cabinet has done an overwhelmingly favorable job in carrying out the policy of his administration.

They pay particular praise to Postmaster General Winston B. Douglas, a member of the opposition party, for his successful effort to revamp the nation's passenger railroad system.

During the first two years of the Kennedy administration, three changes were made. Of the original appointments by President Kennedy, three were remaining when the Nixon administration began.

They also say Walter Hickel, the President's first choice for secretary of the interior, left the administration because of extreme disagreements with Mr. Nixon on environmental matters.

David Kennedy, the first GOP member of the treasury, was asked to resign because of lack of clout on Capitol Hill and was replaced by John Edgar Hoover, a member of the opposition party better versed in the ways of Washington.

were passed at $57½ million over what Gov. Ogilvie called for in his budget, and the governor used the new veto powers to cut those budget bids to the levels he requested. Public school aid passed at $13 million higher than requested, and Ogilvie cut the figure back $5 million. The state's first non-public school aid bill cleared the House by a 5-4 vote. The minimum wage hike. A bill setting minimum teaching loads and defining junior college trustee powers was held.

LICENSING — Attempts failed to keep the licensing powers held by the state under the previous constitution.

APPROPRIATIONS — The governor is using his new constitutional veto powers to bring appropriations within the budget. He had estimated $259 million in excess appropriations and the budget may be further out of balance than that.

ENVIRONMENT — All major bills were held until October.

CONSTITUTIONAL IMPLEMENTATION — Very little implementation legislation was passed.

Disclosures Indicate That the Two Illinois Ballots Should Omit Lewis, Choate, Dunne

We're not generally consulted about the makeup of future state election tickets but we'll voice an opinion, anyway, on three prospective nominees whom we think the two parties ought to avoid.

Lewis, L. Lewis, Republican serving by appointment as Illinois secretary of state, has been mentioned often as a candidate for that office. State Rep. Clyde Choate, a Democrat, and Friday he may run for governor. George Dunne (D), Cook County Board president, has been touted as a possible organization choice for governor.

All three men have been involved in unannounced ownership of race track property, and the Independent Voters of Illinois on Friday urged that Mr. Lewis be removed from office. That seems extreme, but voters — and party leaders — obviously should take the disclosures into account in their future decisions.

Statistics Add to Case for Exposition Hall

It was proposed in the Illinois legislature during the spring that the Madison St. Clair County area become a part of the new Illinois "McCormick Place" (considerably smaller than the one in Chicago).

The idea was that, in descending order of size, the state should cooperate with its major communities in providing exposition halls and performing arts centers.

The bills, since amended to include Springfield and Rockford as well, are still alive and are due for action after the session is resumed Oct. 5.

The fairness of this approach is borne out by the new Census Bureau calculations which show that of the 50 most populous regions in the U. S., two are located partly in Illinois: Chicago-Northwestern Indiana third with 6,714,578 people and St. Louis, Mo.-Southwestern Illinois tenth with 1,882,944. Each urbanized area is defined as consisting of a city of 100,000 persons or more, plus the densely built-up adjoining area whether incorporated or not.

For comparison purposes, New York, N. Y.-Northern New Jersey ranks first with 16,206,841 and Los Angeles-Long Beach, Calif., is second at 8,351,266. Just ahead of this region, in ninth place, is Cleveland, O., with 1,959,880. Last among the 50 is the three-city New York area of Albany-Schenectady-Troy at 486,525.

The heavy turnover positions for the Democrats were in Treasury (3), postmaster general (4), interior (4), commerce (4), and HEW (4).

Historical trends show that the secretaries of state and defense and the attorney general maintain some degree of longevity in any administration.

The office of postmaster general and secretary of labor, often doled out as the ultimate in patronage appointments, tend to be the shakiest.

Republicans sources feel Mr. Nixon's Cabinet will remain intact through the 1972 election year despite the frequent rumors of resignation by George Romney, secretary of housing and urban development, and Maurice Stans, who heads Commerce.

If Mr. Nixon is re-elected, the sources say, they may return to business careers.

Defense Secretary Melvin Laird has often stated he does not intend to remain for the duration of the Nixon administration.

25 Years Ago

By a 3-to-1 margin, residents of the Nameoki Grade School District in a referendum voted to increase the maximum educational fund tax rate 50 cents, from $1 to $1.50. Superintendent Albert Busch said this is the first increase in the levy since the school district was formed and it was necessary in order to meet rising operating expenses.

Mrs. W. F. Coolidge gave a review of the book, "The Peacock Sheds Its Tail," in connection with a tea and regular meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The Amigos girls' softball team was treated to a chicken dinner at the home of the manager, 2623 Washington Ave. Those present were Mildred and Josephine Michels, Arleen Delores and Martha Lierman, Mary Rita Sisto, Betty Wyatt, Edna and Billy Moser, Pat Colligan, Marilyn McConery, Betty Jensen and the hostess, Mrs. C. H. Kuebler.

The Amigos team won the Wilson Park trophy with 12 wins and one loss.

New Study Shows Severity of Link Between Teen Smokers and Lungs

(American Association for the Advancement of Science)

High School students who have smoked from one to five years could expect to live 10 to 15 years longer than non-smokers, and display abnormal shortness of breath, a study by Yale University School of Medicine scientists Janet E. Seely, Eugenija Zunkin, and Arnold Bouhuys report in "Science" on their study of 385 high school students.

One hundred ninety-five boys and 170 girls were tested for expiratory air flow rates. Ages ranged from 15 to 19 years; 50% of the boys and 37% of the girls were regular smokers.

Most of the girls (23%) were "light" smokers, and only 1% smoked more than a pack a day.

Most of the boys (26%) were moderate smokers (from a half pack to a full pack a day), but 8% of them smoked more than a pack daily.

Since the supply of air from the lungs is limited, the lung determines the limits for maximum expiratory flow rates, and since the flow rates are markedly affected by very small changes in the caliber of the airways, it seemed reasonable to think that narrowing of these airways might be an early effect of smoking.

In this turned led to use of tests to measure air flow rates as sensitive indicators of early narrowing within the lung when conventional lung function tests still give "normal" results.

Graphs of expired air flow rates and expired air volumes of smokers and non-smokers showed that smokers have lower flow rates and that these occur at lower lung volumes than in non-smokers. These results probably mean that there is some airway obstruction in smokers' lungs.

Airways become obstructed when the smooth muscle in their walls contracts or when secretions (like mucus) accumulate within the airway.

Accumulation of secretions may occur because of overproduction by mucous glands or because of failure of clearance mechanisms or both.

Since other studies indicate that damage to small airways in life may cause an arrest of normal lung development, and that new airways are formed at least up to the age of 10, it is possible that damage from cigarette smoke might lead to abnormal lung development, especially in children who begin to smoke before the age of 10.

This new objective evidence of functional changes in the lungs of teenagers who smoke only a few years does not preclude the possibility that part of this lung damage may be reversed if smokers quit soon enough.

status as a commonwealth, rather than a commercial enterprise, as before.

Williamsburg became its administrative capital in 1699, and not until 1779 was that capital removed to Richmond.

The first institution of higher learning, William and Mary College, was established at Williamsburg in 1693, named after William III and Mary, his queen, who had ascended the throne in 1689.

Plantations along the rivers and the growth of a substantial number of persons and permitted a high standard of living and culture.

Who had been a loyalty to the Crown was reversed increasingly, however, both by arbitrary policies of the Royal governors as early as 1680, and by the actions of the people of the regime of George III, who came in 1760.

1821—New York state relaxed the status as the unmarried "virgin queen."

In 1606 James I, succeeding to the throne in 1603, had chartered a portion of the territory to the so-called Virginia Company (John Rolfe, an infant living in Torquay, his birthplace in England. Anyone who believes that there are easy answers to the problems of crime received his regular shake-up when the FBI produced its annual report showing crime up once again throughout the nation and in Illinois.

The 1968-page report is filled with statistics which spell tragedy.

The same day I received this report, I received a letter from a mother whose daughter had been murdered. For that month, the statistics are infinitely more meaningful than they are for you and me.

Below are a few of the statistics which can give you no comfort, indicating the number of crimes per 100,000 population for Illinois and some neighboring states:

Illinois 2,347.1
Indiana 2,270.5
Michigan 1,453.3
Ohio 3,659.0
Pennsylvania 2,376.6
Tennessee 1,531.0
Missouri 2,765.0
Kentucky 1,924.5

In every state, this rate of crime represents an increase for 1970 over 1969.

Nationally, murder went up 8.5%. Violent crime generally went up 11.6%. Robbery went up 16.4%. Burglary went up 14.9%. Larceny of $50 or more went up 13.8%. Auto thefts went up 6.9%.

By comparison, in Illinois murder went up 11.6%. Violent crimes generally went up 4.0%. Robbery went up 8.1%. Burglary went up 3.6%. Larceny of $50 or more went up 5.2%. Auto thefts went up 9.1%. Some statistics on the cities, and the meaning of it all, will discuss in future columns.

1972 American Motors Cars Here Wednesday

The full line of 1972 American Motors cars will go on display Wednesday at Brewer Motor Co., with 15 models available for inspection.

The 1972 AM cars incorporate more than 100 improvements affecting driveability, reliability, safety, comfort and convenience. Improvements range from unseen features, such as a plug-in socket for the main wiring harness, to new styling and a new three-speed automatic transmission, the "Torque-Command," which operates as a torque converter unit standard transmissions.

The new transmission is standard on all 1972 Ambassador models and is optional on the Gremlin, Hornet, Javelin and Matador lines.

Important changes this year include the availability of front disc brakes for all models, standard power brakes and independent hood release on Ambassador and optional on all other lines, improved upper ball joints for smoother driving and less servicing, a new power steering pump and belt tension adjustment for V-8 engines and a factory installed "stubby" radio antenna.

Other changes include more powerful heating and air conditioning units with larger air outlets, two-speed electric windshield wipers standard, and stamped rocker arms with cylindrical bearings for longer engine life.

Major carburetor modification will improve engine performance, especially in cold weather starting.

All of the AM cars for 1972 meet or exceed all government safety requirements and the latest devices to reduce exhaust emissions are installed on every model.

Legal Problems, Lack of Funds Delay Razing

Difficulties in legal proceedings, tracing ownership and lack of funds for razing work are primarily responsible for delay in condemnation proceedings for removal of dilapidated homes in unincorporated areas, Assistant State's Attorney Marshall Smith and Jack Clifford, county building official, told the county board in a meeting last week.

Discussion of the problem followed charges of inaction by Roger Ebbie, Wood River township supervisor, who pointed to 24 such homes in one area. He said some of these homes have collapsed as long ago as 1968.

The board adopted an amendment to an ordinance licensing mobile home parks as provisions in the old document were deemed to be too restrictive in some cases. Eased was a ban on use of septic tanks.

Seated as a new member of the board was John W. Boren of Wood River Township to succeed S. A. Griffin who resigned. It was announced that S. Harold Roberts of Alton was appointed to succeed the late Raymond Galloway of Alton. Roberts was not on hand for the ceremonies.

Named to the sheriff's merit commission to succeed Galloway was C. D. Deaneham of Wood River Township.

Four members appointed to three-year terms on the welfare services committee of the Madison County Department on Welfare were Mrs. Hilda McCluskey of Collinsville, Dr. Carolyn Heilung of Edwardsville, Miss Eulalia Horz, county clerk, and Mrs. Estelle Washington of Alton.

Deadline Oct. 1 for Reciprocity Plates

Enforcement of new reciprocity plates for out-of-state motor vehicles operating in Illinois will begin Oct. 1. Secretary of State John W. Lewis has announced.

The start of enforcement of the reciprocity plates will mark completion of a program to update Illinois' reciprocal relationships with other states for the movement of cars, trucks and buses in interstate commerce. Enforcement of private decals has been in effect since Feb. 15. This is the first updating of the program since 1967.

The program assures that vehicles required to be licensed in Illinois display Illinois plates and those entitled to a reciprocal exemption are granted one to the extent that Illinois vehicles are exempted in the other state, Lewis said.

"Reciprocity is a boon to our agriculture, commerce and industry," Secretary Lewis said. "Full reciprocity for Illinois vehicles is essential so that our goods may be hauled to market, and our stores and shops stocked with finished products. Some of our communities could not exist without truck or bus services, and our air, rail and water terminals need truck transportation too."

"We started to issue the new reciprocity plates in late July and completed the program this past week," Lewis said. The out-of-state truck and bus operators need some time to put plates on their vehicles, and for that reason, we felt the Oct. 1 deadline was reasonable.

The second hearing will be at 10 a.m. Friday, Oct. 15, at the Field Museum in Chicago, with a final session planned for 10 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 19, at the public library in Waukegan, Ill.

$50 Taken from Man

In Sales Swindle

Robert L. Hodge, St. Louis, told police a man took $50 from him in a swindle here Thursday. Hodge said he was brought to Granite City at 6:30 p.m. by a man who said he had a television for sale for $50. Hodge examined original sale papers for the television and gave the man the money.

The man reportedly told Hodge to wait at a diner at 19th and State streets while he picked up the television and returned. He never returned, Hodge said.
